Partnering with Washington's School-Based Health Centers

Washington State Department of Health (DOH) invites you to a webinar -- Partnering with School-Based Health Centers to Improve Care for Patients: a health equity and systems approach. Learn about school-based health centers (SBHCs) and their role in improving care for young patients and their families. You'll hear from the Washington-School Based Health Alliance about SBHCs, and the stories and experiences of providers working with and in SBHCs.

Session attendees will be able to:

- Describe SBHCs, their services and benefits for schools, communities, clinics and young patients.
- Understand the collaboration required to establish and operate an SBHC.
- Recognize the role of SBHCs in the healthcare system, and ways they reduce common barriers for children and youth.
- Create new or strengthen existing partnerships with SBHCs to meet the needs of children and youth in your community.

Who should attend: Family Practice & Pediatric Providers, Clinic Staff, and other youth-serving professionals who want to learn more about partnering with SBHCs in Washington.

An application has been submitted to provide 1.25 hour free CME through the American Academy of Family Physicians.
